Dear Students and Families,

I hope everyone enjoyed an engaging and productive week. Just a reminder that in accordance with the holiday weekend, the Team Learning Plans will be updated and posted on Schoology and sent out through Aspen on Tuesday morning before 9am.

I know how our staff has worked very hard this week at all different hours of the day to answer questions from students and parents. Please understand that our faculty will resume Zooms, Google meets and responses to your questions via Schoology or email on Tuesday.

I will share more updates at this time too. Wishing you some relaxing, quiet time this weekend with your family.

Sincerely,

Mr. Harutunian
