Dear Students and Families,

What a beautiful morning!

You should have received a communication from your team this morning that included the weekly learning plan. The weekly learning plan will help structure your week so you know what activities and assignments to do on which days including a schedule of live sessions on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Your teachers will be reviewing them with you this week.

Here is a link to the Team Learning Plans and we will also post these links on the website under Announcements in case you need to refer back.

If you have any questions, please communicate to your teachers/guidance counselors.

If you didn't get to watch our video, take a few minutes this morning; it summarizes the plans and expectations for school going forward this week and beyond. Enjoy the day!

Sincerely,

Mr. Harutunian
