

April 12, 2020

Dear Students and Families,

Students, please take a few minutes tonight or Monday morning to watch my newest video. I will talk briefly about choosing a goal and reflecting on it and you get to meet a special member of my family!

The Team Learning Plans will be updated and posted on Schoology and sent out through Aspen again. Beginning this week, the team subjects will be available by 7pm Sunday night. And then beginning the week of April 20, the team subjects and the world language and FAAs will also be available at 7pm on Sunday night.

We hope that this adjustment helps families review the learning plan with their child before they go to work on Monday morning.

Note 7pm tonight: See that the Team Learning Plans will be updated.

Your teachers and I are looking forward to another week! Hope you are safe and well.

Sincerely,

Mr. Harutunian
