Dear Newton Families,

The Office of Student Services’ mission is to provide a comprehensive network of services and supports that are able to be customized and wrapped around students and families at the point of need. We serve in partnership with families and believe that families are central to the design and delivery of services and supports that are culturally responsive, proactive and preventive. We hope this guide is helpful.

Please do not hesitate to reach out to your schools, teams and the Office of Student Services should you need help in accessing services and supports for your children and family.

In partnership,

Karen
THE IEP PROCESS

Referral: May be made by any source, including school staff, parent(s), or other individuals.

Consent: School has 5 days to send written consent forms to parent(s) upon referral receipt.

Evaluations: In all areas related to suspected disability. Psych evaluation is not required unless requested by parent(s). Evaluations must be completed within 30 school days of the parent(s) written consent. Parent(s) have the right receive all evaluation reports 2 days prior to the TEAM meeting. Reevaluations are held every 3 years.

Eligibility: 3 Questions – Must be YES to all. 1. Does the child have a disability? What type? 2. Is the child not making effective progress in school due to disability? 3. Does the child require specialized instruction to make effective progress?

IEP Meeting: Within 45 school days of parent(s) consent. TEAM must meet to discuss IEP. Required to meet annually, any further IEP meeting requests for the TEAM to meet are voluntary.

IEP Placement: The TEAM discusses and determine placement.

IEP to Parent: Parent(s) must be provided with service grid and summary at the close of the meeting and expect a full IEP report within 2 calendar weeks.

Parent response: Parent(s) have 30 calendar days to respond. Services begin immediately upon acceptance. Data drives eligibility, progress monitoring, and any removal of services must be based on current data.

Implement IEP: Immediate implementation upon parent(s) consent.

Progress Report: IEP progress is required to be reported as often as the school report card is issued.
ANNUAL REVIEW OF THE IEP

Your child’s IEP must be formally reviewed and revised at least once a year by your IEP team. The purpose of this review is to see whether your child is making progress toward the stated annual goals.

At the annual review, you should share your observations about any changes in your child’s education, including areas of growth, regression or lack of progress. You can prepare for the review meeting by reading your child’s current IEP and listing considerations for the development of the next IEP.

During the annual review, the team will consider your child’s strengths, your ideas for improving your child’s education, results of any recent evaluations, and how your child has performed on system-wide and state assessments.

Whenever there are questions, concerns, or changes in your child’s academic, social, or emotional well-being, you and your child’s teacher or team specialist or liaison should talk. If you or the school decide the IEP is not working for your child, or expect progress is not occurring, the Team should meet to review and possibly change the IEP (this can and should happen prior to the annual review date).

THREE-YEAR RE-EVALUATION

In keeping with the mandates of IDEA, DESE requires that a student with a disability be reevaluated every three years (or more often, if conditions warrant) to determine whether he or she continues to have a disability and continues to need special education and related services. This process may be referred to as the triennial reevaluation. This reevaluation is a time to look critically at your child’s progress and instructional needs, and determine the effectiveness of the services that are being provided.

The scope of the reevaluation is determined individually at a IEP team meeting and is based on your child’s performance, behavior and needs. Information that you provide to the Team is also very important during this process.

The school will request your consent to conduct the three-year reevaluation. The school can also recommend to you that the evaluation information they have is sufficient to know that your child continues to be eligible and is also current enough to write an appropriate IEP. In that case, the school may recommend that no assessments are necessary. This helps to prevent over testing, but it should not prevent evaluation that you or the school believes is needed. You have the right to say you still want some or all of the assessments to be certain that the information is current; the school must provide the assessments that you request. A three-year reevaluation generally will include all of the types of assessments of the initial evaluation.
SCHOOL-BASED SERVICES

PRE-SCHOOL SERVICES (AGES 3-5)

Federal and state regulations require that school districts provide special education services to students who are identified with a disability beginning at age 3 and continuing until age 5. When a student turns 5 years old and is eligible to enter kindergarten, services will continue under school-aged special education services.

Newton Public Schools offers Preschool Services for Children with Disabilities to provide individually designed special education and related services to young children ages 3 through 5 years who are eligible to receive special education and related services. These services may occur in a variety of settings, including the school and various sites within your community as determined by your IEP team.

If your child has been receiving early intervention services through the Massachusetts Department of Early Education Care (EEC), your Early Intervention Team will coordinate with the Newton Early Childhood Program (NECP), an Early Intervention transition meeting that will include a representative from Newton Public Schools. This meeting is required to determine next steps in regards to your child’s transition. This can include further assessment to determine eligibility for special education services.

After your child exits Early Intervention Services (EIS), this is a time that many families begin to explore more organized or formal opportunities for their children. For children who are already participating in infant/toddler programs, their families may begin to explore options for pre-schools.

If your child is eligible to receive special education services, the IEP team may determine that there is a need for ongoing specially designed instruction that requires a NECP classroom to meet your child’s needs. Therefore, your child will be assigned to a classroom for their services. For students who do not require specially designed instruction or who are enrolled in an appropriate pre-school program, the team and/or family may determine that related services can be accessed by parents bringing their child to a specified location to receive their related services (Speech/Language, Occupational Therapy, or Physical Therapy).

SCHOOL-AGE SERVICES (AGES 5-18)

Federal and state regulations require that Local Education Agencies (LEA) provide special education services to students in Kindergarten through twelfth grade who have an eligible disability as outlined by state and federal guidelines.

Students enrolled in Newton Public Schools who have an identified or suspected disability can access special education programs and services as determined by their IEP teams at their neighborhood school. It is the goal of the Newton Public Schools to educate students with disabilities in the Least Restrictive Environment based on their individual learning, social, emotional and/or behavior needs.

TRANSITION SERVICES (AGES 14-22)

The goal of transition is that students acquire skills that are valued in the adult world so they will become independent, productive adults and assume responsibility for their behaviors and accomplishments. Post-school activities include post-secondary education, vocational training, integrated employment (including support employment), continuing adult education, adult services, community participation, and independent living. A coordinated set of transition activities must be based on your child’s needs, taking into account his or her preferences and interests, and must include:

- Instruction,
- community experiences, and
- the development of employment and other post-school adult living objectives.

Transition planning will begin when your child turns 14 years of age. The IEP Team, including you and your child, will develop a transition plan that identifies your child’s transition goals and service needs. When your child turns 16 years of age, the Team discussion of Vision, should include a post-school vision statement to reflect the individual interests, preferences and needs of your child in adult life.

The transition plan will focus on determining a course of study and whether that course of study will lead your child where he or she wants to go upon graduation. A course of study includes educational and vocational experiences your child needs to prepare for the transition from secondary education to postsecondary life. The transition plan may also include transition services in the areas of daily living skills, functional vocational evaluation, and inter-agency linkages. Secondary transition is a coordinated set of activities for your child to promote his or her movement from high school to post-school activities.

Newton Public Schools is committed to encouraging your child’s involvement in making decisions about his or her educational programs and long-term goals. Whenever possible, the transition team should also include representatives from post-secondary environments desired by your child, so that they can establish contacts and become familiar with the requirements of the programs your child wants to enter.

During transition planning, it is important to remember that when a student graduates from high school or upon their 22nd birthday, they are no longer entitled to special education services under IDEA. In the state of Massachusetts, there is a planning process to identify needed services from human service agencies for students with significant disabilities (Chapter 688 planning).

Chapter 688 planning should begin at least two years before your child graduates high school or turns 22 years of age. The school district is responsible for making a referral for your child if adult services are needed. The Newton Public Schools has a transition coordinator and transition specialist who works collaboratively with students, teachers, families and school staff to plan for the transition of students with disabilities from high school. A referral to adult services does not guarantee the availability of services.

AGE OF MAJORITY

In Massachusetts, a child reaches the age of majority (legal adulthood) at age 18. When a child with a disability becomes an adult, the rights granted to you as a parent by special education policies and procedures automatically transfer to your child regardless of the severity of the disability. You and your child will be notified about this transfer of rights at least one year before your child’s 18th birthday. Parents are still allowed to receive all written notices and have access to school records. In certain cases, a child with a disability who has reached the age of majority may not have the ability to provide informed consent. In these cases, court action is required so that a court appointed guardian could give informed consent.

SPECIAL EDUCATION PARENT ADVISORY COUNCIL

Co-Chairs 2018
Christine Carey          Rajeev Parlikar
carey@newtonsepac.org  parlikar@newtonsepac.org

The Newton Special Education Parent Advisory Council (Newton SEPAC) is an all-volunteer group of parents of children with disabilities in Newton, MA. As mandated by Massachusetts law, SEPAC provides feedback to the School Committee and school district on special education programs and policies, and participate in their planning and development.

Newton SEPAC also serves as a liaison between parents of students with special needs and school district administrators. SEPAC offers information to the community on a range of disabilities, resources, remediation approaches, and education issues. SEPAC Meetings are open to all parents, teachers, specialists, and others with an interest in education.

SEPAC runs the Newton SEPAC online discussion group as a forum for parents to exchange information and share suggestions for community resources. For more information, contact: info@newtonpac.org or view the brochure.
